

BAILEY FAVORS A WEST TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE

Made the Declaration at Stamford That He Wanted an A. and M. College Located by the Legislature in West Texas—Refers to Stamford as the Capital of West Texas.

(Sillman Evans, Staff Correspondent of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram)

Stamford, Texas, August 11.—Out and out indorsement of the West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College was made by Joseph Weldon Bailey of Gainesville, candidate for Governor, in a speech delivered here Tuesday morning. The announcement was greeted with much applause, as he is the first candidate for Governor to ever espouse the demands of West Texas for an educational institution fitted for the particular agricultural needs of this portion of the State.

Bailey's pronouncement for the college came after a study of the needs of West Texas for a number of days. Before the last primary Bailey told his friends, including Homer D. Wade and others, that if he were elected Governor he would advocate the establishment of a West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College as a matter of simple justice. The fact that the Legislature had once passed an A. and M. College bill, then had repealed the act before the college got into operation, has been characterized by Bailey, in conversation with H. P. Brelsford, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, as a breach of the pledged word of the State, for which the State is as culpable as an individual would have been.

MANY WAYS A CAPITAL.

Stamford, in many ways, is the capital of West Texas. Here is located the headquarters of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and many other purely West Texas interests gravitate from here. The declaration in favor of the establishment of a West Texas A. and M. College came during his discussion of his demand for the abolition of useless offices and for a frugal and economic government. "Now, when I say this, my enemies tell me that I am opposed to good roads and good schools," he declared. "I am in favor of both good roads and good schools. I am not going to reduce the appropriations for the schools of this country, and that means from our great university down to the common schools of Texas. Of course, I am more interested in the common schools of Texas, because the common schools directly affect our State life more than the University of Texas."

EDUCATION FOR MONEY.

"I had rather see the larger proportion of our school children educated in the common schools than to see a few educated in the higher institutions, but that observation is not necessary because Texas is big enough to have a good common school system and higher institutions of the first class. I am proud of our university, and I want it maintained as a university of the first class, as our fathers intended it should be. When I am Governor of Texas, however, the State is going to maintain the schools which have been created. We have two normal schools which have been authorized by law, but for which no appropriations have ever been made. It seems to me, my countrymen, that a State which can appropriate $20,000,000, $1,000,000 of which is for the traveling expenses of a small army of men which travels in parlor cars ought to be able to appropriate enough money to pay for the schools which are created."

WEST TEXAS COLLEGE.

"I pledge you that when I am Governor these normal schools, where teachers are educated, will be in operation at their useful work. There will be no schools in law, without schools in fact." Bailey referred to the Nacogdoches normal school and the Kingsville school. Then came his declaration for the West Texas A. and M. College.

"They passed an act for a West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College," he said, "but it went up into the clouds. I'll bring it down to earth again. You've got a country out here that is much different from the other sections of the State. Your agricultural and land problems are different. Why should you not have a school which can treat these problems in a very special way?" Laughter greeted him when he said another reason that he was for good schools is that "good schools make good Democrats, and we are needing good Democrats now."

KILLED OVER THE POSSESSION OF THE EADS CHILD

(By Associated Press)

San Antonio, Texas, August 11.—One person is dead, two others are injured, one of whom may die, and another is in jail as the result of a gun fight on the streets of Goliad, 150 miles southeast of San Antonio, today over the possession of the Oliver Eads child, who has been held here by the father since the separation of Eads and his wife a few weeks ago, according to information received here this afternoon.

The fight started soon after the arrival in town of Mrs. Oliver Eads and her two brothers, Chester and Felix Latson, according to information here.

The trio, it is said, met Eads and asked him to enter an automobile in which they were traveling. The shooting followed. Eads was shot three times and killed. Mrs. Eads was shot through both legs and is in a serious condition. Felix Latson was shot through the chest and is not expected to live.

RUSSIAN BOLSHEVIK ARE MARCHING ON TO WARSAW IS LATEST

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Aug. 11.—The Russians are now occupying a stretch of 24 miles of direct railway line between Warsaw and Danzig and a large force is pushing across the Danzig corridor to cut the remaining railroad, according to the French foreign office. The section held by the Russians is between Cieszarow and Mlawa.

DR. J. W. HOWELL DIED THIS MORNING IN GALVESTON

(From Thursday's Daily)

Dr. J. W. Howell died at 5 o'clock this morning at the Sealey hospital in Galveston where he was taken Tuesday morning by his sons J. Webb Howell and Robert W. Howell for treatment. While he had been in quite feeble health for several years, he had only been seriously ill about one week. The body will be brought home tonight, and the funeral will be held from the family home Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. A sketch of Dr. Howell's life will be published in a subsequent issue of the Eagle.

POLES ATTEMPTING TO STRIKE BACK AT THE BOLSHEVIK

(By Associated Press)

Warsaw, Aug. 11.—Concentration and regrouping of Polish forces for an extensive counter stroke on the entire Warsaw front is reported by newspapers. It is planned to begin the movement within a few days. Military men express the opinion that this is a propitious time to strike back in an effort to drive off the Soviets who are endeavoring to encircle the capital.

PURCHASED HOME.

J. M. Gordon has purchased from M. F. Dansby what is known as the Brandon place, one block west of the postoffice on 26th street and now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wood. The sale was made by James W. James and the consideration was $6,000.

MOVE TO POSTPONE ACTION ON SUFFRAGE IN TENN.

(By Associated Press)
Nashville, August 11.—The first move in the fight for ratification of the Federal Woman Suffrage amendment by the Tennessee legislature, was made in the lower house at the convening today with the introduction of a resolution proposing that action on consideration of ratification be deferred until after the people of the State could hold a Statewide mass meeting on August 21st in order to express their opinion on the amendment.

ALL TEXAS CROPS REPORTS ARE VARIED

(By Associated Press)

Waco, Texas, August 6.—Crop reports over a wide area of south and southeast and central Texas show that cotton, corn and other crops are in good condition, according to reports received here. In a few localities the weather has been too dry for both cotton and corn, but this is more welcome to farmers at this juncture than a long stretch of rainy weather, according to local observers. Dry weather, it is said not only puts a stop to boll weevil ravages, but eliminates the danger of cotton souring in the field.

In the Luling district, the pecan crop is reported virtually a failure, the result of shedding following untimely rains.

The state's melon crop is well on the way toward exhaustion most of the melon-growing areas having shipped their last cars to market. Indications are that canteloupes from outside the state will meet the demand for the remainder of the season. Reports from various districts follow:

Lockhart. An exodus of cotton pickers from this territory to the valley sections of the state is causing apprehension to owners.

Cuero. The first bale of cotton was brought in by Frank Gaita, of the Nopal section. Reports from the Mission valley say picking has become general there.

Tehena. Crop outlook here is not as bright as it was a month ago, dry weather having cut both corn and cotton crops. Cotton is well fruited, although the stalks are small.

Smithville. Crops in this district are considered the best for four years. A good corn crop is believed assured through the region, and cotton is fruiting well, with the weevil doing but little damage. The melon crop is unusually large.

Yoakum. Melons and sweet corn are plentiful here.

Brenham. About one and a half inches of rain which fell here during the last week benefited the June planted corn.

El Campo. Farmers in this section are combatting the weevil with valium fumes. A good crop is forecast. Garrison. During the last few days heavy rains have fallen here.

POLAND GOVERNMENT ASKS HELP FROM THE UNITED STATES

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Aug. 11.—Poland will ask immediate aid from the United States in her fight against Russian Soviet, Count Lubominski, Polish minister to the United States, announces today. The appeal to the state department, he declared, will be based upon assurances contained in the American note to Italy stating the United States will insist upon the maintenance of political independence and the territorial integrity of Poland. He said it was probable the request would be confined for the extension of credits by the United States for the purchase by Poland of surplus war stocks.

NEFF CHALLENGES BAILEY FOR A JOINT POLITICAL DEBATE

(By Associated Press)

Houston, Tex., August 11.—Last night Pat M. Neff challenged Joseph Weldon Bailey to a joint debate, or a series of joint debates, time and place to be agreed upon. Neff sent a telegram to Bailey, personally conveying this challenge and asked him to give his decision soon. In his speech last night Neff said that if Bailey accepts this challenge "he will certainly have to get down to his knitting and tell you what he actually proposes to do as governor."

MISS MCKNIGHT WILL REPRESENT THE EAGLE

Miss Bernadine McKnight, of A. and M. College, left in the Texas Farm Boys' Special today on the 4000-mile trip over the United States. While on the trip Miss McKnight will be special correspondent for the Daily and Weekly Eagle and her letters will be of great interest to Eagle readers. The paper is fortunate in securing the services of Miss McKnight on this wonderful trip.

AMERICAN PARTY MAKES TICKET NOVEMBER ELECTION

Former Governor Ferguson for President, Open Shop Opposed and Democrats Denounced—T. H. McGregor Is Nominated for Governor—Presidential Electors.

(By Associated Press)

Fort Worth, Texas, August 11.—The new American party closed its convention here today after nominating a state and presidential ticket and denouncing the democratic party. The ticket is as follows: President, Jas. E. Ferguson, Bell county; governor, T. H. McGregor, Austin; lieutenant governor, J. W. Green, Montgomery county; attorney general, B. D. De Shields, Jacksonville; state treasurer, Joseph A. Drozd, Hill county; associate justice, Hugh B. Short, Center; railroad commissioner, Herbert A. Smith, Bell county; superintendent of public instruction, Fischer Alsop; land commissioner, W. B. Riley, Hardeman county; comptroller, William Blakesley, Travis county.

Presidential electors—B. F. Dean, Jasper; Robert M. Lyles, Milam; C. E. Walker, Tarrant; W. S. Albright, Dallas; J. J. Elliott, Milam; G. H. Moss, Anderson; N. J. Veret, Harris; Warren Galloway, Burnet; C. W. Ellinger, Fayette; J. H. Davis, Jr., Bell; P. T. Moore, Rogers; E. B. Hausner, San Saba; N. R. Dorsey, Rusk; John H. Stafford, Tarrant; Ben Hill, Tarrant; H. Burr, Harris; John F. Kelley, Bexar; M. J. Gahagan, Galveston; Joseph Naiwar, Williamson.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson in his keynote speech at the morning session, expressed his allegiance to the "closed shop" policy.

The plank adopted by the convention reads: "We not only recognize the necessity for the 'closed shop' for the protection of the laboring masses in industrial lines, but we recommend that the principle extended to the farming masses so that those who make crops can get better prices for their products and pay better wages to labor that makes the crops."

Democrats Denounced.

After denouncing the democratic administration as "a failure, a sin and a shame," and productive of "more taxes and less liberty, more ignorance and less efficiency, more graft and less honesty, more hell and less peace than any set of men that were ever entrusted with power," the platform adopted Tuesday afternoon deals specifically with a number of State issues.

TEXAS REPUBLICANS FOR OPEN SHOP

(Special to the Eagle)

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 11.—Two republican factions of Texas held state conventions here today, the faction favorable to negroes in its personnel nominating H. Capers of Dallas for governor, and among other officers George W. Burkett of Houston for attorney general.

Hope for Fusion.

Negotiations are in progress for a fusion between the regular republican organization and the American party, in session in Fort Worth today, on the national ticket with each party naming half the electors, according to convention gossip. In this manner republicans say they hope to secure half of the Texas electoral vote for Harding and Coolidge, the republican presidential and vice presidential nominees.

For Open Shop.

The platform adopted by the regular convention here declares unequivocally for the open shop and for "white man's rule" in politics. It also indorses the Esch-Cummings transportation act, urged repeal of La Follette's seaman's law, denounce the league of nations and government ownership. It endorsed enlargement of the merchant marine but declared against features of the recent act of congress on that subject. The platform also calls for a protective tariff on livestock, cotton and other products of Texas.

GEN. WRANGEL IS RECOGNIZED BY FRANCE

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Aug. 11.—France has decided to recognize General Baron Peter Wrangel as head of the defacto government in South Russia. The announcement said this recognition implied the rendering of General Wrangel all possible military assistance.

A. AND M. COLLEGE MEN WILL GO TO GALVESTON

(Special to the Eagle)

Galveston, Texas, August 9.—Professor C. M. Evans and Professor Pou of the extension service of A. and M. College are to be in Galveston on August 18 for a conference with members of a committee from the board of directors of the Galveston Co-Operative Stores, Inc., as to the financial feasibility of the establishment here of a creamery, to be financed by the Co-Operative Stores and supplied by the dairies of the county for the benefit of both interests.

Members of the committee from the Co-Operative Stores, appointed at a recent conference between the board of directors and the Dairymen's Association include: C. G. Sweet, G. C. Knapp, C. O. Wheeler and Mrs. W. L. Love. The committee was put in communication with the experts at the College through E. W. Gruss, agricultural agent. The two men have made a careful study of the dairy situation in Texas both from a business and a scientific point of view and their investigations into and advice concerning the situation here are regarded as invaluable. G. C. Knapp, member of the committee, said yesterday.

DAVIS AND WILLIS ARE LEADING IN OHIO PRIMARY

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, Ohio, August 11.—Complete unofficial returns from two-thirds of the State precincts give Harry L. Davis, former mayor of Cleveland, a lead of 19,600 votes for the Republican gubernatorial nomination over former Congressman Ralph Cole, his nearest opponent. The same returns give former Governor Frank Willis of Delaware a lead of nearly 30,000 votes over Walter F. Brown of Toledo for United States senator.

THE TEXAS FARMERS CONGRESS IN SESSION

College Station, Texas, August 10.

Declaring that it is time for the farmer to take charge of his own business and that the solution to the farmers' problems can be worked out only by the farmer and not by the banker, merchant, lawyer, doctor or any other professional or business man, Judge L. Gough of Hereford delivered an impressive appeal for improved marketing facilities before the Texas farmers congress here today.

The twenty-third annual convention of the farmers congress opened for a three-day session at the A. and M. college Monday morning. W. B. Munson of Denison delivered the president's address. W. B. Lanham, assistant director of agriculture extension at the college, delivered the address of welcome and M. Falkner of Waco, secretary-treasurer, made his annual report showing the affairs of the congress to be in good condition.

The afternoon was given over to section meetings of the affiliated agricultural societies.

The delegates to the congress are hearing addresses by O. H. Cross of Waco on the subject, "The Producer a Burden Bearer and Some of His Burdens." Dr. G. F. Warren, Cornell university, also will speak.

The following committees were appointed at the morning session:

Auditing: J. S. Kerr, Sherman; E. G. Lesturgue, San Antonio; J. T. Tindel, Galveston.

Resolutions—Judge L. Gough, Hereford; John Conner, Waco; J. T. Ramsey, Austin; J. E. Boog Scott, Coleman; and J. W. Ridgeway, Gainesville.

Education—Louis H. Scholl, New Braunfels; Elwood Homery, Donna; E. W. Kirkpatrick, McKinney; T. H. Claypool, Waco, and W. L. Stangel, of the animal husbandry department of the college.

BUNCH SLACKERS BEING ROUNDED UP IN CHICAGO

Chicago, August 11.—A roundup of slackers was launched today when United States deputy marshals and agents of the federal bureau of investigation, searched Chicago for two hundred and twelve men alleged to have either failed to register or answer the summons of the boards, several business and professional men are said to be included.

TEXAS CROP REPORT IS NOW ENCOURAGING

(By Associated Press)

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 11.—The general rains recently, followed by hot sunshine, over most of the cotton growing district, will benefit the crop greatly, experienced growers declare. Previously, the long dry spell had begun to render cultivation of the ground difficult, in many sections the soil cracking open. It is thought the rain will do little toward promoting the infestation of the boll weevil. Among the places reporting rain in the last few days are: Hempstead, Cuero, Lockhart, Singletown, Elgin, New Ulm, Smithville, Luling, Brenham, Wharton, Columbus and Carrizo Springs. Moisture was badly needed in most of these sections, it is said.

Cotton is rapidly opening in many areas, Edinburg reporting nearly 400 bales ginned to date. Palestine reports that honey dew and lice are cutting production to some extent. Virtually all sections of southeastern Texas reported corn in good condition, while hay fields throughout the state are generally reported good. Reports from several sections in this part of the state follow:

Navasota—This city has received its first bale of cotton.

Carrizo Springs—A heavy rain has fallen in this section, greatly benefitting the cotton crop.

Bremond—The first bale of the 1920 cotton ginned here brought 40 cents a pound.

Elgin—The first bale of cotton here brought 45 cents.

Singletown—Heavy showers have fallen here during the last few days of last week.

Brenham—More than two inches of rain fell here last week. The shower was purely local.

El Campo—The first bale of the 1920 cotton ginned here realized 36 cents a pound.

Columbus—A moderate rain fell here last week. All crops, particularly cotton, were in need of moisture.

Freeport—Figs have produced unusually well here this season. The early figs are bringing good prices.

Yoakum—The cotton has begun to open freely and some has apparently won the fight against the boll weevil.

Lockhart—Cotton pickers are leaving here in large numbers for the southeastern section of the state.

New Ulm—A good corn crop is believed made here. The rains which fell last week are expected to benefit the young cotton crop.

Columbus—Early planted cotton is opening, and picking will begin in about two weeks.

Elgin—So far about 75 cars of melons have been shipped from this city.

ABSENTEE VOTING WILL BEGIN ON AUGUST 18

(By Associated Press)

Austin, Tex., Aug. 11.—In accordance with a recent ruling by the attorney general's department, F. C. Malone, county clerk of Travis county, has made the following statement: "Absentee voters may exercise the privilege of voting at the August primary from the 18th until the 24th, inclusive, it being necessary to present yourself personally to have your poll tax receipt or exemption."

"Any qualified voter who expects to be absent from Travis county on the day of election may take advantage of the law. All absentee voters who voted in the last primary may call and get their poll tax receipts."

This condition applies to all the counties in the state, and to those who desire to avail themselves of all the absentee voting law.

ATTACKS UNIONS, BAPTIST CHURCH AND PAT M. NEFF

Anson, Tex., August 11.—"If it were not for the Baptist church and the labor unions Mr. Neff would not get 50,000 votes in Texas, and most of the latter would be irreconcilable Bailey haters, and I deem it an honor to be opposed by them," declared Jos. W. Bailey in his first three speeches made today.

"They passed a bill creating the West Texas A. and M. College," said Mr. Bailey. "I ask where is that college; it is up in the clouds. When I am elected I will bring it down to earth and locate it somewhere. You have a wonderful country and different from other sections of the state. Therefore, there should be an agricultural and mechanical college in this section to help educate your boys in the right way."

Little Rock, Aug. 11.—Returns this morning of yesterday's primary indicate Congressman T. H. Caraway is leading for United States Senator, W. F. Kirby for the senatorial nomination by over 9,000 votes. Figures collected show McRae is leading eight opponents for governor.

Real reciprocity is one of the greatest assets in town and country. The Eagle is at your service.

Brazos county should ship 500 carloads of 70-pound watermelons next year. Let us not forget these important things.

Bryan needs better railroad depot facilities. These brief remarks are only preliminary and should be heard by those interested.

Editor E. K. Williams of the Temple Daily Telegram, has two airplanes. Let him remember the fate of poor Tam O'Shanter, and come in early.

Poor Poland, she has 113 holidays and no bread to eat. Mexico has 122 holidays before she went on the rocks of destruction under the Diaz regime.

Perry Perriwinkle called at the Eagle office Wednesday and gave us his platform for the run-off primary: (1) Brickbats for the living; (2) Flowers for the dead.

Bryan must have better telegraph service. The people are paying dearly for service and should have it and the sooner the better. The busy season is not far ahead.

If West Texas cannot get a new A. and M. College some of the boys out there want a new state created and will call it Jefferson. The proposed capital is to be at Stamford.

The Eagle challenges Bob Gresham of the Temple Mirror and Ben Hargel of the La Grange Journal to tell us the origin of the sandwich, which is now fast becoming obsolete.

Galveston is having a clean up campaign. There is no place on the face of the earth that needs this more. After the clean up let us have a shower of fire and brimstone in Galveston. Texas should clean up the Augean stables and start over again.

The crop of presidential candidates in the United States are perhaps larger in 1920 than at any time in the history of the country. However the crop will be cut down in November. Only the usual number of presidents will be elected.

If more money makes efficiency certainly the railroads ought to improve the service at once. A raise in rates amounting $1,500,000,000 for one year should put pep and iron in the service that has for two years been a complete wreck. Let us be thankful.

"Charlie married me and then forgot me," wails Mrs. Charlie Chaplin in her divorce pleadings. Give the woman the divorce. Charlie is money-mad and nothing will hold him until he arrives in purgatory, then it will all be over, but the fire works.

It is openly charged by the military authorities of Galveston that the city administration has allowed gambling, bootlegging and prostitution to go on under in defiance of the law. The facts will no doubt all come out soon and then the whole truth will be known.

In speaking of Phil Smith who is now make-up man on the Daily Eagle the Sulphur Springs News-Telegram says: "He can do twice as much work as the average printer." The Eagle now has the best, and strongest force it has had under the present management. Our employees now are the best in the State in every department—excepting none.

Perhaps when we get on the $1,500,000 railway rate and wage increase we can occasionally get a shipment of freight from somewhere. A billion and a half dollars ought to make somebody want to deliver the goods and put a little "pep" or efficiency in business somehow somewhere some time. Let us be thankful it is no worse.

Bandit Pancho Villa says he avoided the U. S. soldiers and American soldiers many times when they were chasing him in the mountains of Mexico by falling back and following them through the wilderness. Evidently the soldiers remembered the fate of Lot's wife while in the chase after the bandit.

Some of the self-allocated wise politicians are predicting that as only 475,000 votes were polled in the July 24 democratic primaries the republicans have a good chance to carry Texas in November. They estimate that there are 1,000,000 qualified voters in Texas. There is not a word of truth in this. There is not a true 750,000 qualified voters in Texas and fully 25 per cent of the voters never vote in any election. 475,000 votes are a clear, clean cut majority of all the votes in Texas. Some politicians are quite irresponsible when they begin to handle figures.

THIS IS TODAY!

(Clay Center (Neb.) Sun)

It is to laugh! The printer goes into the cigar store, lays down 15 cents for a 5-cent cigar and smiles; he goes to the boot shop and gives up fifteen simoleons for a pair of five-kick heels and rejoices with the store man over his prosperity; to the druggist he hands a dollar for a bottle of physic that he formerly bought for 35 cents and makes good by adding 50 cents to the outlay as payment for 25 cents' worth of chocolates to make the physic a necessity; he pays the grocer and the butcher two prices and registers ap probation; he gives the banker 8 per cent for 4 per cent money and recognizes that in unnatural times one must expect unnatural charges; he pays the garageman, the picture show man, the drayman, and the railroad their increased rates without a kick, but when any of these intelligent and progressive business desire a handful of letterheads they are shocked at the continual upward trend in the prices of printing. We might offer these gentlemen a number of valid reasons for higher printing costs in addition to the ones that they already know to be legitimate, but do not think it necessary to go any more than we expect them to do this for us. However, we will say to them that the day when the country printer owed everyone in the community and was dependent upon their charity for his support—the day when he walked in fear of his banker and approached his grocer in confusion—is with all offices of any consequence a thing of the past. To be a successful newspaper man requires nearly as much talent as it takes to successfully manage a soda fountain and should be worthy of as much remuneration as is expected by the proprietor of a pool palace. In addition to this a successful newspaper man must have sufficient literary ability to correct the copy of men who wish commercial printing so as to make it intelligent in its construction. He must work more hours than any other man in business in the village and he must pay his employees higher wages than any other commercial enterprise in the place and these are but few of the reasons why it costs more to have printing done in these days of advanced costs of everything than it did when shoes were selling for $3.50, wheat for 60 cents and "Horseshoe" at 45 cents per pound. The fact that we dare write and publish these truths is proof positive that in some offices at least fear and trembling have been superseded by that knowledge of actual value which makes for commercial and intellectual independence. It is to laugh!

"FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING."

(Sovereign Visitor, Omaha, Neb.)

We like to mention names of prominent Woodmen—that is why we say that Sov. Hon. Lee J. Rountree is not only a good fraternalist, but an editor of some repute. Since January, 1920 he has been managing editor of the Bryan Daily Eagle of Bryan, Texas. He has been nominated for the legislature of Texas from Brazos and Grimes counties. Sov. Rountree was chief clerk of the Texas legislature for three years and has held many high offices. He is a fraternalist above all, belonging to many fraternal societies—the W. O. W. being his special hobby. He was captain in the Spanish-American war in 1898; appointed lieutenant colonel on the staff of Governor Campbell in 1907. He was elected president of the National Editorial Association at San Francisco in 1915, presiding in New York in 1916. He is interested in publishing, farming, banking and many other things; quite a traveler and, above all, a staunch Woodman for over 20 years. Lee is o. k.

It is said that it is costing the State of Texas $47,000 per month to run the government of Galveston. It is a disgrace that these things should happen when every able bodied man is needed in Texas, should be at work. The cutting down of efficiency and production is one of the curses of the present day. More production and work is needed to keep business going.

The Texas Farm Special will leave College at noon Saturday and stop in Bryan about 12:15 p. m. Let every patriotic citizen of Brazos county who can possibly do so be at the International and Great Northern station to give the prize winning boys the proper send off on the great journey. The Eagle wishes one and all bon voyage and a safe return home.

We never work if figures are correct. Somebody says that according to figures we never work, and here is how he figures: In one year there are 365 days. But we lose the following time: Eight hours' sleep, 122 days; eight hours' recreation, 122 days; Sundays, 52 days; 52 half days on Saturdays, 26 days; one hour for lunch, 15 days; two weeks' vacation, 14 days; legal holidays, 13 days; City day, closed for celebration, one day. Total, 365. When do we work?

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram says: "Whatever increase in prices there may be as a result of the increase in freight rates will only be temporary and will be more than made up quickly if the railroad executives make the most of the situation and lose no time in providing new cars and equipment." For more than two years the railroads have been inefficient from top to bottom. Now that everybody connected with the railroads from top to bottom have received a raise about $1,500,000,000 that condition no longer exists. The railroads and every man with the railroads is now receiving big pay so it is time to get busy. Inefficiency and incompetency heretofore prevailing should pass away. Men should be cured of the unrest and get busy. The country needs service now and it is certainly going to have to pay for it.

THE POST ANSWERS.

(Houston Post)

Some of the newspapers in the smaller towns of Texas seem to take especial delight in picturing the wickedness of the cities of the State. To read some of our exchanges one not otherwise informed, would conclude that Houston and some other cities are veritable sink holes of iniquity, where vice and crime and indolence reign supreme.

The favorite method of presenting their case is to seize upon the account of some crime in a city paper, and then argue from the particular to the general.

If a woman is caught shop lifting, it is interpreted by some of our contemporaries as evidence that the working women of Houston can not live on their wages and are stealing enough to make up the deficit.

If there are a few bootleggers arrested, the conclusion is drawn that the majority of the people of the city are booze hounds.

If there is a strike the city is denounced as a place where the people loaf, and squander their time in idleness while others in the country support them.

It is admitted that the big daily newspaper, pursuing its mission of printing the unusual, sometimes tends to give a false impression of the life of a people. Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, in an address to the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association recently, brought out this fact, by telling how the Englishman gets a wrong impression of the American and vice versa by reading newspapers which present accounts of occurrences that really do not represent either people.

As the brilliant ambassador remarked, the one stray sheep often receives more publicity, because he is the unusual, than do all the other ninety and nine who are safe in the fold.

But a few arrests in Houston are sufficient to fire some of our contemporaries in smaller towns in to preach a crusade against the city in general. They overlook our 150 churches, our 50 or more public schools, our university, our half a dozen hospitals, our scores of lodges for fraternal benefit, our half dozen hospitals, our scores of lodges for fraternal benefit, our many welfare organizations and our various institutions of charity.

They seem to forget that it takes a pretty good set of people to keep all these institutions and organizations going. They do not maintain themselves, you know. Back of them all are hearts that beat true to the needs of humanity, and which are attuned in harmony with universal good.

Not all the people of Houston are sprouting wings, brethren of the rural press, but neither is Houston a Sodom or Gomorrah in danger of being deluged with fire and brimstone. Please remember that about 99 per cent of our people are just plain, everyday, human folks.

THE UNREST.

In another column the Houston Post answers in a sweeping way what it terms the attack of the "newspapers of the smaller towns" and the "rural press of Texas" in calling attention to the wickedness, the general breakdown of the morale and labor inefficiency of the country through the lax methods and allurements in an "alleged cities." The Eagle has commented on these deplorable things more or less in a joking way. But the spirit that is being built up in the cities to belittle the country and the "rural press" and is the most dangerous feature of the present unrest. A man recently to Bryan from one of the Texas cities (where conditions were deplorable) and after remaining here a few days said he would go where the roar was greater and the lights were brighter and said: "I would rather starve in a city than live in a luxury in the smaller towns." The man was unknown and without skill or education. He had drifted from place to place for twenty years; he had accumulated nothing and had not saved a dollar. He had made no sacrifices and was not interested in anything. He had been Nowhere and was going Nowhere. There are thousands of these people in the cities of Texas and in the United States. It is of this class there who shirk their plain duties and the class that are not performing any real labor that the Eagle refers to. It will joke about these things and may at times grow serious, but above all it wishes to say to the Post that there should be more spirit of intelligent patriotism everywhere, men should be advised to stop loafing and give up their unrest; to put their money in homes and business; to take more interest in education and efficiency. There are too many persons shirking their duties and the roar of the street and the lure of the bright lights are not "opportunities" for the average man. Every man must do something for himself or he does not measure up to the standard as a God-fearing, patriotic American citizen. The Post knows this and the Eagle knows the Post knows that we know it does know these undisputed facts.

The Waco News-Tribune says: "Wonder how that party of McLennan county farmers who are to attend the Farmers' Congress at College Station next week expect to reach that fair city by going on the Katy. It's a queer world, isn't it?" That's easy. A Bryan man recently started on a trip around the world on the H. & T. C. railway. He later took a boat.

A FARM AWAKENING.

(Waco News-Tribune)

Indicating that a co-operative movement is being launched by Navarro county farmers to settle a growing problem, The Corsicana Sun urges "every community to have a representative at the Farmers' Mass meeting called to convene in the courthouse at Corsicana Saturday, August 14, at 3 p. m., for the purpose of perfecting a county organization for the protection of the farmers in the labor problems which they will face in gathering their crops."

"There is little doubt, "The Sun continues," that this county will produce the largest cotton crop this fall it has in many years. Also, numerous other crops are larger than ever before.

"Arrangements should be made to produce sufficient labor for everyone at reasonable wages before it is too late. If the farmers wait until the last minute to secure this labor they will have to pay wages beyond all reason, while if the labor is secured in proper time the farmer will have to pay only a fair and reasonable wage.

"Now is the time to get everything in readiness for the gathering of crops. Let there be a representative gathering at the courthouse on August 14th."

The Navarro county farmers are tackling a problem which is confronting most of agricultural Texas. The outcome of the Corsicana meeting will be watched with considerable interest by the farmers in all parts of Texas.

If the Navarro county tillers can launch a co-operative plan for drawing farm labor and then working a mutual schedule to use this labor to the fullest extent in harvesting the crop, they will not only have solved their own community's pressing need but they will have given an excellent idea to their fellow farmers throughout Texas.

Secretary S. W. Adams, of the San Augustine Chamber of Commerce, said in his speech before the Dallas meeting of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night that the tomato farmers of San Augustine county received an average of ten cents per crate net for the finest fruit averaging one pound to the tomato and that served there tomatoes cost the ultimate consumer about $175 per crate. There is something radically wrong with the marketing system in Texas and it seems that inefficiency and incompetency is the watchword. It occurs to the Eagle that the farmer ought to receive more than 10 cents for $175.00 worth of tomatoes and that some "city" men are robbing the producer somewhere. These robbers are in the Cole Younger, Jesse James and Sam Bass class.

The Tyler Daily Tribune suspended publication Saturday night. This leaves only one newspaper in Tyler, a town of over 12,000 people. Editor Dabney White is in independent circumstances financially but decided he did not wish to spend his private fortune and give his time to the newspaper business when it was becoming unprofitable. If things continue in the next year as they have for the past year hundreds of newspapers in Texas in the smaller towns will close their doors. The larger newspapers have gotten control of the output of the newsprint mills at 5 to 6 cents per pound and have gone in the open market and run up the price of paper to 14 to 15 cents and the profiteer with the assistance of the larger newspapers are going to undermine all the smaller newspapers in the country. Newsprint is double the price at the times doubled by the profiteer. after it gets in his unholy hands.

666 has more imitations than any other Chill and Fever Tonic on the market, but no one wants imitations. They are dangerous things in the medicine line.

SPREADING UNREST.

The farmers of Navarro county will hold a meeting at the courthouse in Corsicana to discuss present means of meeting the present labor unrest and to save the present crops of this section of Texas. There are thousands of acres of rich land in Texas that are idle this year because there was not sufficient labor on the farm to plant and cultivate it. Now to lose much of what has already been raised under adverse circumstances will be a calamity. The labor agitator is giving the laborers unrest—a new disease. They have been in Bryan telling not only the farm laborers but all others to "go west" or to the oil fields where wages are very high and "jitney" drivers can make $25 a night.

These agitators who make glittering promises which are in the main untrue and only make men dissatisfied. When higher wages are paid out West and in the oil fields nine times out of ten living conditions are higher and more unsatisfactory. When a man gets the roaming disposition coupled with the disease of unrest having been Nowhere and going Nowhere it is serious indeed. He does himself an irreparable injury and never makes any great headway on the farm or in town. It interferes with efficiency and production. The Eagle has had some experience recently with the agitator who came here to "take men over the hill" and these men found that all was not gold that glitters over in the oil fields. Most promises made by paid agitators are worthless. They dissatisfy workers and give them the unrest—that's all. We hope they will not return to Bryan.

EAST TEXAS C. OF C. JOURNEYS TO DALLAS

Closes Exercises of the Day With a Banquet at the Texas State Fair Park—About 1,200 Citizens of Texas Were Present.

(By Associated Press)

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 5.—About 800 business men, farmers and professional men came to Dallas yesterday as representatives of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in special trains over the Cotton Belt and the Katy. There were two brass bands on the trains, one from Mt. Pleasant and one from Commerce. Fifty citizens came from Paris wearing white hats and uniforms and probably the largest delegations were from Tyler, Sulphur Springs, Mt. Vernon, Athens, Willsboro, Mt. Pleasant and Commerce. There were representatives as far northeast as Texarkana, southeast as San Augustine and southwest as Bryan and Mexia. About 200 business men of Dallas met the visitors at the Union Station in automobiles. After a trip over the city, the wholesale district was visited. A procession of about 1,000 people was led through the principal streets by the bands. At 6 o'clock an auto drive was taken over the city and a banquet served at the Texas Fair grounds.

Once safely in the city, and disembarked, the entire delegation massed in front of the station, where they were given the right hand of welcome by 200 members of the Dallas Wholesale Merchants' Association, then they formed in solid phalanx for their entry of the business section of Dallas. Four abreast, headed by the Boy Scout Band of Commerce, in their trim khaki uniforms, a parade five blocks long was quickly formed. Then, to the martial strains of the band, the leading delegation stepped out, marshaled by Fred MeJunkin and various members of the Trade League committee of welcome.

The officers of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce are: E. B. Alford Henderson, president; Milton H. Farrier, of Omaha, vice president; Clay Hight, Tyler, secretary and treasurer; A. L. Burge, Tyler, general manager. Executive board: J. B. Mayfield, Tyler, chairman; Lee J. Rountree, Bryan; O. C. Mulkey, Commerce; Tucker Royal, Palestine; J. H. Kurth, Lufkin; E. B. Alford, Henderson; O. M. Stone, Jasper; Hardie A. O'Neil, Atlanta; Milton Farrier, Omaha; C. L. Duncan, Mt. Pleasant; H. L. McKnight, Nacogdoches; R. M. Kelly, Longview and R. T. Blair, Timpson.

After touring the city all the cars made their way to Fair Park, where a crowd of perhaps 1200 of the delegates, their ladies and friends gathered in the grand stand for an alfresco box luncheon served by the Dallas Wholesale Merchants' Association. The menu was a substantial one. Much good humor attended the serving of the outdoor luncheon and some impromptu speeches were made in different places in the grand stand.

After the luncheon the crowd was massed about the center of the stand and the delegates were called to order by W. J. Kinsella, president of the Dallas Wholesale Merchants' Association, who introduced A. H. Bailey, who served in the capacity of toastmaster. Mr. Bailey, after a few remarks of welcome introduced Mayor Frank Wozencraft, who delivered the official address of welcome to the visiting merchants and agriculturists.

Dallas News Report.

Below is a report in the Dallas News: "Editor Lee J. Rountree of Bryan followed Mayor Wozencraft on the program. He spoke of the unbounded resources of East Texas and made a plea for the development of that region and for the installation of better schools and municipal institutions.

"I trust that I shall live to see the day," the Editor said, "when the great imperial State of Texas shall number 10,000,000 souls and when the great city of Dallas, the natural lader of the Southwest, shall number 1,000,000 inhabitants within her corporate limits. East Texas is the greatest undiscovered country in the world today. Her cotton, her corn, her peaches, melons, strawberries and lumber, her iron ore and timber, her hogs and her cattle, all combine to make her the richest region on the globe. A man in Franklin county showed me 800 melons on two acres of land the other day. "These melons," the Editor added, "would bring $15,000 in the cafes of Chicago and New York in any bad season. We have come to Dallas," he continued, "to place the call of East Texas before the far-seeing citizens of the most progressive city in the Southwest. We want the men of Dallas to know of the great undeveloped resources in our portion of the State, and to co-operate with us in bringing them to the attention of those who can develop them."

The case of East Texas could not be more clearly stated than in the words of Lee J. Rountree of Bryan. "West Texas may have its cattle," Mr. Rountree said, "North Texas may have its cotton, South Texas its rice and the Panhandle its great fields of grain, but East Texas is absolutely the only portion of the State, if not of the whole United States, where one can find all these things in practically adjoining fields. Nobody disputes the wonderful fertility of the black land of North Texas. It raises some of the finest cotton in the world. "In East Texas we raise just as fine cotton as the market of the

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD RULES ON HANDLING COTTON

(By Associated Press)

Washington, August 6.—The federal reserve board has not advised member banks what loans they should make against current cotton crop. Governor Harding informs the U. S. department of agriculture. He acted in answer to reports reaching the department that "due to existing financial stringency stocks cotton was being forced on the market at sacrifice prices." The department intimated action prompted through the "ruling or other form of instruction from the federal reserve board which limited loans on cotton to that only which was in progress of shipment." Governor Harding said the law provides that "for a period of six months out of each consecutive 12 months the national banks may loan an individual firm or corporation up to 25 per cent of capital and surplus where excess of ten per cent may be secured by warehouse receipts."

"East Texas with all this wealth of resources is, as yet, unexploited and undeveloped. It is to show something of her rich possibilities to the outside world that the present excursion was undertaken by the representative merchants and farmers of our part of the State. In some portions of Texas it takes ten acres to feed one cow but in East Texas planted in Bermuda grass one acre will feed ten cows."

E. B. Alford of Henderson, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, sounded the same note in a speech that propounded the great potentialities of the region. "We in East Texas once were famous only for our ticks, but science has conquered, so that we now have become famous for our fruit, our vegetables and our crops. And now, like Alexander of old, we are looking around for new worlds to conquer." He gave the instance of one acre that has already marketed 100 bushels of potatoes, will yet give a bale of cotton and 75 bushels of peanuts. "What we want in East Texas now is not extensive but intensive farming," he declared.

Other out-of-town speakers were Colonel Milton Farrier of Omaha, O. C. Mulkey of Commerce, A. H. Burge of Tyler and a list of response speakers, among whom were E. R. Landman, Mayor of Athens, who made a stirring speech, in which he evoked much laughter by announcing that the only way Dallas was located up North was by the knowledge that it was seventy-seven miles from Athens.

Dallas was represented on the program by L. O. Daniel, Chas. L. Sangster, L. H. Lewis, Gus W. Thomason, J. J. Taylor and Nathan Adams. Mr. Thomason gave the case of the Dallas wholesalers in his address on the subject of "Our Complete Marketing."

He explained that Dallas had the three essentials of wholesale success—merchandise, prices and service. He gave statistics to prove that within a radius of 150 miles the transportation rates were 62 per cent cheaper than St. Louis, 67 per cent cheaper than Chicago and 70 per cent cheaper than New York.

Tom C. Gooch was to have spoken, but illness prevented his attendance. A letter of welcome was read from him expressing the closeness of Dallas and East Texas and his firm belief in the future of that section.

TRIBUTE TO MR. WILLIAMSON.

(By Associated Press)

Navasota, Texas, Aug. 5.—News was received in this city of the appointment of H. H. Williamson as state agent of the extension service of A. and M. College, to succeed M. T. Payne, who resigned to accept a position as director of extension service of the A. and M. College of Arkansas. Mr. Williamson was born and reared at Bedias, Grimes county, where his parents now reside. He is a graduate of A. and M. College and has been in the service of the college since his graduation, his last work being that of director of the agricultural club boys' work. His Grimes county friends are proud of his advancement, and feel sure his work in this department will prove as satisfactory as his past record.

DR. B. J. LLOYD HERE.

(From Thursday's Daily)

Dr. Bolliver J. Lloyd of the United States Marine hospital services stationed at Washington City, was in Bryan today. Dr. Lloyd came to Texas coastal cities with the surgeon general to look into the bubonic plague situation and got a two-day leave of absence to come here to see his father, Mr. D. S. Lloyd of Reliance. He will join the surgeon general in St. Louis on Sunday. Dr. Lloyd was born and reared in this county and his many friends here are always glad to see him.

COTTON GROWERS ASSOCIATION FOR BRAZOS COUNTY

With example of 38 other counties as a precedent, farmers of Brazos county held a meeting at the court house in Bryan Saturday, August 7, at 2:30 p. m., for the purpose of electing officers and perfecting a county unit of the United Cotton Growers Association of America. Speakers from the national headquarters made talks explanatory of the organization. The meeting was presided over by Judge J. T. Maloney, who introduced Fred Roberts of Corpus Christi who said the United Cotton Growers Association of America is pushing its campaign into all of the 172 cotton producing counties of Texas, as rapidly as possible. The goal is set at 100,000 members by January 1, 1921. About forty farmers of Brazos county joined the organization.

The principal tenets in the creed of the United Cotton Growers Association of America are set forth in these words of President Roberts: "A warehouse in every community, and all the cotton of the community in the warehouse; a financing system that will take care of distressed cotton—that is, such cotton as has to be sold, and will permit the owner of a warehouse receipt to borrow a reasonable amount of money at a reasonable rate of interest; and a marketing bureau that will sell all the cotton of all the members direct to the spinner." D. C. Dove and W. H. Summerville were present and assisted in the meeting.

Among other things that appeal to the practical farmers, is the personnel of this association's officers: Fred Roberts, president; Cyrus B. Lucas, first vice president; Chas. H. Flato, second vice president; J. A. Hill, third vice president; W. S. Stephenson, fourth vice president; Walter L. Barnum, secretary; J. H. Barbee, treasurer; Ed C. Lasater, Al M. McFadden, G. E. King, and E. A. Flynn, on the board of governors. The officers elected for the Brazos county unit were: I. M. Cook, president and W. E. Graham, secretary. Wellington Brink, who for two years was a resident of Bryan, while connected with the experiment station of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and who was later associate editor of Farm and Ranch, is editor and manager of the Cotton Grower, published weekly by the United Cotton Growers Association of America and was here at the meeting. The temporary headquarters of the association are located in Corpus Christi and will be moved soon to Houston.

County Meetings.
Meetings in the interest of the Cotton Growers Association will be held at the following places in Brazos county this week and speakers will be present at each place on the date given: Steep Hollow, Tuesday night, 8 o'clock; Harvey School House, Wednesday night, 8 o'clock; Reliance Thursday night at 8 o'clock; Kurten, Friday night at 8 o'clock; Court House, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The plans and purposes of the association will be explained.

J. W. BARRON,
Clerk District Court, Brazos County.

CONVICTIONS UNDER TICK ERADICATION STATUTE

The cases of five citizens of Brazos county, charged with failing to comply with the dipping law, were called in Justice of the Peace J. W. Hamilton's court yesterday and pleas of guilty by two of the parties were entered and their fines and costs were paid. The other cases are held open for the present. The officers of the county have no desire to prosecute anybody and especially the farmers, but the tick eradication law was enacted primarily for the farmer's benefit, and will be enforced to the letter. All who do not comply with its provisions will have to suffer the consequences.

FARMERS ARE NOW GOING ON A STRIKE

(By Associated Press.)
New York, August 5.—Low prices are reported to have caused a strike among the Eastern Long Island farmers. No potatoes are being loaded in the district of Riverhead and string beans and cabbages are said to be going to the hogs instead of to market. The decline in the wholesale market at last has led to a decrease at retail. Buyers at Riverhead are offering $1.50 a bushel for potatoes.

The farmers regard prices at the bottom of the market and merely temporary for which reason they are said to be willing to risk letting potatoes rot rather than to sell at a price they consider below the cost of production. The market is being influenced largely, they believe, by arrivals of potatoes from New Jersey and the west shore of Long Island.

Housewives in the center of the Eastern Long Island district are paying, it is understood, the same price as retail buyers pay in New York. The market is $6 a bushel or 5c a pound. It is said that when these potatoes are served in New York restaurants they cost $1 per pound or $42 per bushel.

INCREASED ATTENDANCE AT THE A. AND M. COLLEGE

(By Associated Press.)

College Station, Texas, August 5.—Work of repairing and renovating buildings at the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Texas is being speeded up in order that the construction program may be completed before the opening of the fall term in September.

A new stucco building is being erected to house the military department, a model high school which will accommodate all of the children of the district is being constructed. Dormitories are being repaired generally and put in condition. While President Bizzell expects an increase over last year's attendance of 1,845, he is confident no student will be turned away on account of lack of quarters.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders and board of directors of the Bryan-College Interurban Railway Company will be held in the city of Bryan, Brazos county, Texas, on Friday, the 10th of September, 1920, for the purpose of considering an amendment to the charter of the company and especially the second section thereof, which now reads as follows:

"The purpose for which this corporation is formed is to construct and acquire with power to maintain and operate street railways in the city of Bryan, Brazos county, Texas, and between the city of Bryan, Brazos county, Texas, and the town of College Station, in Brazos county, Texas, by the use of electricity, gas, gasoline, denatured alcohol or naphtha, for the transportation of freight and passengers, and the power to construct, own and operate depots upon the line of said railway."

So that when it has been amended the said section will read as follows: "The purpose for which this corporation is formed is to construct and acquire with power to maintain and operate street railways in the city of Bryan, Brazos county, Texas, and between the city of Bryan, Brazos county, Texas, and the town of College Station, in Brazos county, Texas, by the use of electricity, gas, gasoline, denatured alcohol or naphtha, for the transportation of passengers and the power to construct, own and operate depots upon the line of said railway."

R. J. BAILEY DEAD.

J. I. Barron received a telephone message last night informing him that R. J. Bailey of Calvert, dropped dead at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Mr. Bailey was reared in Bryan, as a son of the late Uncle Lem Bailey, and lived here until a few years ago when he removed to Calvert with his family. He is survived by his wife and three children. J. I. Barron attended the funeral which was held in Calvert this afternoon.

THE CORN CROP OF TEXAS 160,000,000 BUSHELS ESTIMATE

(By Associated Press.)
Austin, Tex., Aug. 6.—Estimating the Texas corn crop this year will exceed a hundred and sixty million bushels, which will be more than may be disposed of at home, plans are being made by the marketing of the State Warehouse Marketing Department for handling the surplus crop. Major San H. Dickson, chief of the division, has announced.

The plans contemplate getting buyers from other states to buy the surplus crop and Major Dickson says he already has a list of prospective buyers so that the farmers may be assured of getting the highest market price for their corn.

Reports received by the division from the corn belt of Texas strongly indicate a bumper crop this fall. The list of buyers are not all outside of Texas, as in the state there are many sections that do not produce a sufficient amount of corn for local consumption.

PLUMBERS HUNT 'GATORS.

Party Gets 20 Saurians, Fred Goehler Shooting One Measuring 21 Feet from Tip to Tip. Ten in Party.

According to information received from members of Plumber's Local 606 yesterday, the Harmony Club, composed of members of the local, enjoyed an alligator hunt to Pasiga River Sunday.

The launch Ligia Elena was chartered and they left the marine landing at 9 o'clock Saturday night reaching their destination before daylight.

On the way, H. Johnson, tenor, sang several selections which were greatly appreciated. Mr. Johnson was ably assisted by the Harmony quartette.

The hunting was all that could be desired, the party getting alligators, six of which were beached and photographed. William Dooling was credited with the most kills while Fred Goehler got the largest saurian, a large one measuring 21 feet from tip to tip.

The following members were in the outing: Dave Atken, Bill Dooling, Andy McCormack, Dave Wheeler, Joe Mahoney, Frel Goebler, George Odean, John McPortland, Henry Johnson and Olly Price.—News—Christobal, Panama Canal Zone.

The Henry Johnson referred to in the above clipping, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Johnson of this city. Henry is in the government service and has been located in the Canal Zone for some time.

AN APPRECIATION.

Sulphur Springs, Aug. 4.
Mr. Lee Rountree,
Bryan, Texas,

Dear Mr. Rountree—In your talk at the banquet given for the East Texas Chamber of Commerce yesterday in Dallas, we are glad to note that a portion of your speech reported by the Dallas News, was directed to giving publicity to Sulphur Springs and Hopkins County. We wish to say Mr. Rountree, that we appreciate this very much and hope that we may have occasion to return this very nice favor.

The writer was glad indeed to meet you again personally at Dallas. Your speech as a whole was very interesting and pitched on a high plane. We feel sure that the same was appreciated by both Dallas and all the people of East Texas.

Very truly yours,
CLAUDE W. BRYANT, Pres.
Chamber of Commerce, County of Agriculture.

BEN PERRY GIVEN $5 FOR 8 YEARS WORK IN PRISON

Sufficient material for a novel might be found in the conviction of Ben Perry, negro, sentenced for a crime of Green Hunter, alias James Brown, to the penitentiary, and his subsequent release. Perry served eight years in the state prison after being convicted for assaulting a white girl near Bryan which was committed by Green Hunter, according to the latter's confession which he made here just preceding his death on the scaffold.

Word of the release of Perry came to Sheriff Harston yesterday morning. The communication stated that Perry had been given $5 by the prison officials and turned loose. As there is no law which provides for payment to an innocent person for a term served in prison no money can be given the negro by the state for the unjust punishment. Sheriff Harston, however, said that he would head the list of contributors in order to give the Perry negro something to recompense life with.—Dallas News.

The crime above referred to was committed in this county, seven miles southwest of Bryan, near Rosprim. When the crime was committed Ben Perry and Green Hunter were both arrested, but Hunter was released, there not being sufficient evidence to connect him with the crime. The little girl, however, positively identified Ben Perry as the man, and her identification was complete and made on more than one occasion, and under the most difficult tests the officers could invent. She never wavered, was absolutely sure Ben Perry was the man who assaulted her and picked him out every time no matter how many other negroes he was placed with when brought before her. It was upon the positiveness of her identification that he was convicted.

Green Hunter, the other negro mixed up in the affair, left Brazos county and only a few weeks ago committed a heinous crime at Dallas, was arrested and convicted at once and two weeks later was hanged. The body was brought here and buried near Rosprim, his former home. Shortly before his execution he made a complete confession to Judge J. G. Minkert of this city, stating that it was he and not Ben Perry who committed the crime in Brazos county. With this confession on his lips he went to the scaffold and expired the crime committed at Dallas, and on the strength of this confession Ben Perry is again a free man. Sheriff Morehead was seen this morning, but up to this time has not been officially notified of Perry's release.

TEXAS OPENING FIGHT AGAINST RAT PEST

(By Associated Press.)

Fort Worth, Texas, August 6.—Cities of Texas have cleaned out their rats—but now farmers in the rural districts complain of rat-covered fields, of crops devoured and entire feed storehouses devastated by the rodents.

Campaigns against the rats in the cities are blamed for the rat plagues in the country. The cities, aroused by the presence of bubonic plague at Galveston and Beaumont, decreed wholesale killing campaigns. In Fort Worth free traps were distributed to the public. Corsicana pays a bounty on rats. In Galveston, Pat Arthur, Beaumont and other smaller Gulf ports anti-rat ordinances have been enacted. The farms received considerable of an overflow of rats banished from the cities as a result of the drives, it is believed by agricultural agents.

In Denton county rats have destroyed one field of corn after another. Grain crops, too, are suffering. Farmers around Roanoke have applied to government agents for relief measures against the rodent enemy.

An alarming condition exists in Erath county, it is said. Farmers have bought heavily of traps and poison for the destruction of hordes of rats overrunning their fields—that have multiplied by the thousands in the last few weeks according to their accounts. Pat Carter, a farmer near Stephenville, Erath county a participant in a rat killing campaign killed four hundred in two hours in his own barn.

According to reports from the infested districts, the rats go marauding at night. Corn stalks offer them easy access to the ears and often by morning what was a thriving corn field the day before will be eaten bare. Government agents have advised a liberal use of poison, attacks on the rodents about old barns and feedhouses, and the employment of traps.

WELL KNOWN VISITORS.

S. J. Howell of Dallas and F. M. Law of Houston, two former citizens of Bryan, were in the city yesterday and attended the Sunday school of the First Baptist church, with which they were connected while they were citizens here. Both made short talks to the Sunday school in which they referred to their former residence here and their connection with the Baptist church and Sunday school, and the pleasure it afforded them to be present and meet the members, which still included a number of their old friends of former years. The talks of both gentlemen were very highly appreciated.

DR. J. W. HOWELL

RESTS IN PEACE

Was One of the City's Oldest Citizens, Leading Business Man, Christian Gentleman.

R. A. HARRISON

HOME FROM TOUR OF GREAT WEST

Visited Irrigated Farming Sections of New Mexico, Arizona and California.

As briefly mentioned in the Eagle yesterday afternoon, Dr. J. W. Howell died Thursday morning at 5 o'clock at the Seale hospital in Galveston where he had been taken for treatment a few days before. He had been in failing health for several years, but was able to look after his business affairs until a week ago when he was taken quite seriously ill and on Tuesday of this week was taken to Galveston for treatment by his faithful sons J. Webb Howell and Robert W. Howell. He found no relief there and continued to sink until the end came at the hour stated.

Dr. Howell was 72 years of age and was born in Greenville, South Carolina, January 1, 1848. He received a liberal education in his native state and in Texas, later attending medical college in Galveston. He was married in Galveston on April 12, 1869 to Miss Mary Emma Webb, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Webb of this city, and sister of our fellowtownsmen, R. S. and Jas. H. Webb.

He came to Bryan in 1872 and engaged in the drug business and from that time to the day of his death, was one of the leading business men, not only in Bryan, but of this entire section. He was a tireless worker and gauged his entire business career along lines of the highest ideals of integrity, justice and promptness. He lived up to every obligation to the very letter and his word was his bond. He carved for himself in the business world a success of which any man might feel justly proud.

He entered the banking business many years ago and organized the banking firm of Clarks, Bryan and Howell. In 1883 this firm was consolidated with the banking firm of J. S. Fowlkes Co., and in 1886, assisted in the organization of the First National Bank. He served first as cashier of this bank and was then its president for a number of years and after retiring from the active banking business, continued as chairman of the board of directors of the bank. He was president and director of the Bryan Press company, chairman board of directors of Howell & Co., Inc., wholesale grocers; vice president Howell Lumber Co.; was interested in a number of other business enterprises of Bryan, and was the largest Main street real estate owner in the city.

Notwithstanding his crowded business life, he made it possible to devote much time to his home life and church life, in both of which he found his greatest pleasure. His home life was ideal and in his home it can be truthfully said that a more devoted and loyal of children was never raised than his. He was a leading member of the First Baptist church, was always at his place, and was one of its faithful, dependable members.

He is survived by his widow and four children, viz: W. S. Howell, J. Webb Howell, Robert W. Howell of this city and Mrs. D. Eastman of Waxahachie. He also leaves many other relatives and a host of friends to mourn his death. The funeral will be held from the family home tomorrow (Saturday) morning at 10 o'clock.

HARVEY NEWS ITEMS.

Harvey Texas, August 4.—After an absence of three weeks your correspondent, Mrs. J. C. Davidson has returned from a very enjoyable trip to Wharton and Eagle Lake, especially the former as it was her home for many years, and she received a most cordial welcome from all her many friends. The trees had grown so much in the last five years that many of the houses were almost hidden by them, and she felt like exclaiming as Nathan C. man our former townsmen did that she could not see the town for the trees. It had been raining for nearly a month when she reached there and
